

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

The object of this work is to impart the power to read vocal music. The plan is similar in every respect to a graded series of literary readers. Music, in fact, is a language, and should be learned just as any other language is learned, by using it. As the philosophy of language, or grammar, can only be taught when the language is well known, so the technicalities of music must come late in the course.

Everything in this system tends to cultivate the power to do; yet a careful presentation of theoretic elements induces a growing independence on the part of the pupil from the beginning.

Care is taken to make the pupil familiar with musical effects before they are named; for instance, the words major and minor are admitted only when the effects which these words represent are perfectly familiar to the ear.

All non-musical and unscientific representations of music, such as diagrams, figures, circles, etc., are avoided.

Experience proves that the full staff representation when properly presented is the simplest possible. Any representation to the eye of effects which are known only through the ear is of necessity purely arbitrary, there being no natural relation whatever between the thing and its sign. Hence the assumed superiority of some modern devices is purely imaginary.

The songs are such as a child who has accomplished the preceding exercises can actually read, and are, therefore, of a thoroughly educational character.

The songs of Section III. are repeated in each succeeding book. They are intended for celebrations when the whole school, including all grades, participates. In the lower grades they must of necessity be taught by rote.

The authors desire to express their sincere thanks to the many people, teachers, writers, and others, who have assisted in testing and perfecting this course of study. It may be well to state here that nothing has been admitted to these pages which has not been thoroughly tested by teachers of the grade for which the work is intended.

It is also desired to express thanks to Messrs. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., D. Lothrop Company, Charles Scribner's Sons, and to the Century Company; for permission to use copyright material.

NATURAL MUSIC PRIMER.

DIRECTIONS.

It is advisable that chart Series A be mastered before this book is begun. Chart Series B and C should be used with these exercises. Chart practice should precede each lesson in the book.

Proceed with these exercises precisely as you would with little sentences in the primer. First: Be sure that the children have thought the exercise through before they sing. Second: Have the exercise sung with expression as a whole, not in a labored manner from note to note. Third: As soon as the exercise is correctly sung with the syllables, have it sung with la-, loo-, or a vowel sound. Fourth: As early as possible require the children to think the exercise out, and render it at once with la-, loo-, or a vowel sound. Fifth: Do not allow the singing to drag. Insist on life and spirit from the first. Sixth: Let the tempo (speed) be governed by the pupils' age and ability. If the pupils be too young to read the words of the songs, teach the stanzas by rote, and apply them to the notes afterwards.

The notes should be sung, never recited by name.

Waste no time in explanation. Give the correct pitch of Do, and sing at once.

Assist the pupils only when necessary.

Definitions are uncalled for, but correct terms should always be used. The musical terms necessary are brought to the teacher's notice as required.

While learning the scale relation of tones it is necessary to name them. The names given in these books are those in most common use. There is, however, nothing in the development of the exercises which prevents the use of any other names the teacher may prefer.

A Christmas Song.

Words from Kindergarten Songs.

Music notation for "A Christmas Song." The song is written in G major (one sharp) and common time (C). It consists of two stanzas, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The piano part is written in a grand staff (treble and bass clefs).

Stanza 1:
Hark, the bells are ring-ing gay, 'Tis the eve of Christ-mas day;

Stanza 2:
Hol-i-days are now be-gun, Full of mer-ri-ment and fun.

The Divided Beat.

Young pupils tend to give a beat to each note. To correct this, require them to hold the finger down while they sing two notes, then raise it slightly and quickly, and put it down again, and sing the second two while the finger is held still.

Experience seems to show that children learn more easily if downward beats alone are counted; thus, a two part measure may be indicated by, down, up; — but down, down, is more effective, especially if a slight sound is made by the finger on the top of the desk.

Chromatics.

A chromatic is frequently introduced between four and five of the scale. This tone is called fi (fee), or sharp four ($\sharp 4$).

It is easily sung from sol, or five.

Sol; fi, sol of this scale is identical with do, si, do of another scale, so that we can use do, si, do of the second scale while learning sol, fi, sol,

Sing do, si, do, and then sol, fi, sol, on the same pitches, and the chromatic is soon learned.

A sharp placed before a note (Ex. 262.) is called an accidental; it affects the pitch of the degree of the staff on which it occurs, but its effect does not extend beyond the next bar.

Dictation Exercises.

Dictation exercises form a part of each lesson from this point to the conclusion of the series. The lessons are carefully graded and progress systematically. They consist of elements already made familiar to the ear and eye by previous practice. The object of these exercises is to give the pupil the power to write what he hears, but the immediate result of these elementary lessons should be (1) more careful attention; (2) greater acuteness of hearing; (3) better knowledge of note progressions; (4) a deeper impression of tone effects; (5) careful observation of musical notation; (6) increased power to read music.

Directions.

The teacher causes the pupils to draw the staff and place the clef. After singing the scale to fix the tones in the pupils' minds, she tells them where to place Do. She then sings each exercise slowly with the syllable "loo," and the children write the notes upon the staff.

Do is on the third space  Do.

Sleep, Dolly, Dearie!

HERBERT HARRADEN.

Rather slowly.

First system of the musical score. The vocal line (treble clef) begins with a whole rest, followed by the melody for the lyrics "Come, Dol-ly, dear-ie! You must be wea-ry,". The piano accompaniment (grand staff) features a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand. The tempo instruction "Rather slowly." is written above the vocal staff.

Always softly and smoothly.

Second system of the musical score. The vocal line continues with the melody for the lyrics "We have been bus-y all day. . . To bed you must go, and to-". The piano accompaniment continues with the same rhythmic pattern. The tempo instruction "Always softly and smoothly." is written above the piano staff.

Third system of the musical score. The vocal line concludes with the melody for the lyrics "morrow, you know, Togeth-er a-gain we will play. . . Come, Dolly, dear-ie,". The piano accompaniment continues with the same rhythmic pattern.

SECTION III.

PATRIOTIC AND DEVOTIONAL SONGS.

No. 59. March of the Men of Harlech.

Words by WILLIAM DUTHIE.

Welsh National Song.

1. Men of Har-lech! In the hol-low, Do ye hear, like rush-ing bil-low,
2. Rock-y steep-s and pass-es nar-row, Flash with spear and flight of ar-row;

Wave on wave that surg-ing fol-low, Bat-tle's dis-tant sound?
Who would think of death or sor-row? Death is glo-ry now!

'Tis the tramp of Sax-on foe-men, Sax-on spear-men, Sax-on bow-men,
Hurl the reel-ing horse-man o-ver, Let the earth dead foe-men cov-er!

Be they knights, or hinds, or yeo-men, They shall bite the ground!
Fate of friend, of wife, of lov-er, Trem-bles on a blow!

Loose the folds a-sun-der, Flag we con-quer un-der! The pla-cid sky now Strands of life are riv-en; Blow for blow is giv-en, In dead-ly lock, or bright on high Shall launch its bolts in thun-der! On-ward! 'tis our bat-tle shock, And mer-cy shrieks to heav-en! Men of Har-lech, coun-try needs us, He is brav-est, he who leads us!

young or hoar-y, Would you win a name in sto-ry!

Hon-or's self now proud-ly heads us! Free-dom! God, and Right.
Strike for home, for life, for glo-ry! Free-dom! God, and Right!

No. 60. God ever Glorious.

Words by S. F. SMITH.
(American author, 1808—.)

Music by ALEXIS T. LWOFF.
(Russian, 1799—1870.)

1. God ev - er glo - ri - ous! Sov - 'reign of na - tions,
2. Still may Thy bless - ing rest, Fa - ther most Ho - ly,
Wav - ing the ban - ner of Peace o'er the land;
O - ver each moun - tain, rock, riv - er, and shore;
Thine is the vic - to - ry, Thine the sal - va - tion,
Sing Hal - le - lu - jah! Shout in ho - san - nas!
Strong to de - liv - er . . Own we Thy hand.
God keep our coun - try . . Free ev - er - more.

No. 61. Heavenly Father, Sovereign Lord.

Words from "Songs for the Sanctuary," No. 889.

FELIX MENDELSSOHN.
(German composer, 1809—1847.)

1. Heaven - ly Fa - ther, sov'reign Lord, Be Thy glo - ri - ous name a - dored!
2. Though un - wor - thy, Lord, Thine ear, Deign our hum - ble songs to hear;
3. While on earth ordained to stay, Guide our foot - steps in Thy way,
4. Then with an - gel harps a - gain We will wake a no - bler strain;
Lord, Thy mer - cies nev - er fail; Hail, ce - les - tial good - ness, hail.
Pur - er praise we hope to bring, When a - round Thy throne we sing.
Till we come to dwell with Thee, Till we all Thy glo - ry see.
There, in joy - ful songs of praise, Our tri - umph - ant voi - ces raise.

No. 62.

Hail Columbia!

Words by JOSEPH HOPKINSON.
(American author, 1770-1842.)

1. Hail, Co-lum-bia! hap-py land! Hall, ye he-roes,
2. Im-mor-tal pa-triots, rise once more! De-fend your rights, de-heavy'n-born band! Who fought and bled in Freedom's cause, Who fought and bled in fend your shore; Let no rude foe with im-pious hand, Let no rude foe with

Free-dom's cause, And when the storm of war was gone, En-im-pious hand, In-vade the shrine where sa-cred lies Of joyed the peace your val-or won. Let in-de-pen-dence be our boast, toil and blood the well-earn'd prize. While off-'ring peace, sin-cere and just, In shall pre-vail, And ev-'ry scheme of bon-dage fail.

CHORUS.

Firm, u-nit-ed let us be, Ral-lying round our lib-er-ty!

As a band of brothers joined, Peace and safe-ty we shall find.

The Natural Course In Music for Public Schools

By

Frederic H. Ripley and Thomas Tapper

This course consists of a carefully prepared series of Music Books and Charts, reasonable in price, and designed to cover the whole graded course in Primary and Grammar Schools. The plan contemplates the constant use of charts at first independent of the books and afterwards as a systematic preparation for the lessons to be learned from day to day in the music readers.

The Charts and the Readers are very closely related to each other, and their interdependence and correlation will be seen from the following outline:

- | | |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|
| 1st year in Music—Chart Series A. | |
| 2d year in Music—Chart Series B | } .. The Music Primer. |
| 3d year in Music—Chart Series C | |
| 4th year in Music—Chart Series D.. | Music Reader, No. 1. |
| 5th year in Music—Chart Series E.. | Music Reader, No. 2. |
| 6th year in Music—Chart Series F.. | Music Reader, No. 3. |
| 7th year in Music—Chart Series G.. | Music Reader, No. 4. |
